

NATIONAL LAWMAKERS.

WHAT THEY DID IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE TO-DAY.

The Election Bill Discussed in the Upper House.—What "The Critic's" Young Men Heard in the Press Gallery and Corridors.

SENATE.
In the Senate today the resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Dolph as to the denial or abridgement of suffrage in certain States was taken up, but in the absence of Mr. Dolph, it went over without action. The Senate then resumed consideration of the Election bill and Mr. Jones of Arkansas made argument in opposition to it.

Mr. Jones said the bill was an attempt to deprive the people of the control of their own elections and to place that control in the hands of Federal officers.

HOUSE.
The House today passed Senate bill providing that in open street launches of ten tons or under one person may act in the double capacity of pilot and engineer.

Major of New York City introduced a bill for the inspection of cattle and horses and the products and carcasses thereof which are subject to interstate commerce.

The bill was discussed and finally referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on Private Land Claims.

THE RAUM INVESTIGATION.
THE SON OF THE COMMISSIONER DENIES MR. BRECKENRIDGE'S ALLEGATIONS.

The special House Committee investigating the charges made against Commissioner of Pension Loans by Representative Cooper of Indiana continued its investigation to-day.

Chairman Morrill opened the session by referring to the report of Mr. Seckendorf, of the New York Tribune, who said that it would be a good thing for the committee to have access to the employees of the Pension Office who had been in the employ of Captain Lemon, or who were appointed on his recommendation, and be at the time furnished the committee a list of such persons.

Green B. Raum, the son of the Commissioner, testified that he knew of no person who had been in the employ of Captain Lemon at the time of his appointment.

Mr. Raum was requested to furnish to the committee a list of all persons in the Pension Office appointed by Commissioner Raum with their former places of employment.

The committee then adjourned until Monday morning.

TAMMANY'S CANDIDATE.
MR. COAKLEY WILL BE NAMED FOR THE GOVERNORSHIP.

Thomas Coakley of New York City and Tammany Hall, is now, and has been for many Congresses past, an assistant doorkeeper at the main entrance to the hall of the House of Representatives.

A Democrat just from the old party as David Bennett Hill, Tom is a member in good standing of ancient Tammany Hall. He enjoyed the friendship of Richard Croker, as well as Bourke Cockran, Commissioner of the New York City Police, and the other members of the Tammany hierarchy.

The committee then adjourned until Monday morning.

SENIOR BRICE'S ENUMERATION.
COUNTED IN BOTH NEW YORK CITY AND OHIO.

The following telegram was received in this city yesterday:

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.
Hon. S. C. Tamm: Cincinnati Commercial states that Superintendent Porter authorities statement that I was returned as a resident of New York in census report. Please advise me of the result of his authority for statement. Advise him that the census report was made for Ohio, and that return was made to enumerators.

Calvin S. Bruce.

Superintendent of the census report that I was returned as a resident of New York in census report. Please advise me of the result of his authority for statement. Advise him that the census report was made for Ohio, and that return was made to enumerators.

It is thought among the Ohio Democrats that a change will be made in the enumeration of Senator-elect Brice's residence investigated before he is allowed to take his seat. It will be remembered that the point was raised at the time of the election, but as Mr. Brice maintained his legal residence at Lima and voted there at every election it was regarded as settled. This double enumeration would indicate otherwise.

Chairman Handy.
Mr. F. A. G. Handy, of the Chicago Tribune, has been chosen chairman of the Press Committee, vice General H. V. Weaver, resigned. Mr. Handy has long been a member of the committee, and is one of the best and best-known correspondents at the Capitol.

His tenure of office is a universal favorite among his fellow-craftsmen.

Beaver, Cameron, and Quay.
Governor Beaver was at the Capitol yesterday and held quite a reception in one of the cloak-rooms. The Governor is angry because Senators Cameron and Quay are not here to-day, and he has a delegation and himself to secure a day in the House for the consideration of the Border Bill, which he has introduced.

Mr. Stewart, Republican Congressman-elect from the Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania District, Mr. Brennan late that day found the Colonel and saved the party. It was the final day on which such could be filed, and Mr. Brennan has a well-defined suspicion lurking in his mind that Colonel Stewart sought to avoid service. If such were the Colonel's object it failed.

Objects to the Bill.
Speaking of the Street Railway bill, which passed the House last Monday, and is now pending in the Senate Committee of the District of Columbia, a Senator this afternoon said:

"If that bill comes into the Senate in its present shape I shall vote against it. I was surprised that such a measure should receive the sanction of the House."

Rebate on Tobacco.
Congressman Garrett, of Louisville, today obtained from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue the following ruling in regard to the rebate on tobacco in transit, January 1, 1891.

The rebate will be made to the owner of the tobacco whenever it may be, if such owner is manufacturer or dealer.

A BALL CLUB ORGANIZED.
Washington Will Be Represented in the American Association Next Season.

Prospects for good ball in Washington next season are bright, and the gentlemen who have the forming of a club in hand say that the city shall not bring up the rear in the American Association.

The Washington Club will be admitted. Last night, at a meeting of the organization of the city, Mr. D. K. D. was made chairman and Mr. Thomas B. Kallistras secretary.

The meeting was largely attended, and an informal discussion of the details of the proposed organization was the chief order of opening, but soon solid business was gotten down to when Mr. Charles T. Trotter nominated Mr. Henry B. Bennett for president of the club, already having been decided that an organization was necessary. PROHIBITION IN THE DISTRICT.

The Dingley Bill Favorably Reported to the House.

The Select Committee on Alcoholic Liquor Traffic to-day reported favorably Mr. Dingley's bill, introduced last February, to prohibit the manufacture and sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia. The following is the bill:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That the term spirituous and intoxicating liquors, where used in this act, shall be held to include all spirituous and intoxicating liquors, all mixed liquors of which a part is spirituous, intoxicating and alcoholic, all distilled or wine, ale and porter, all beer manufactured from hops and malt, or from hops and barley, and all other sorts to be drunk on the premises.

Sec. 2. That no person, after the expiration of the license now in force for the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia, shall anywhere within said District manufacture, or sell, or keep for sale, or export, or import, or give away, any spirituous and intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, or scientific purposes, and the manufacture and sale and importation, exportation, or transportation of any spirituous and intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, or scientific purposes, shall be forever thereafter prohibited in said District.

Sec. 3. That no spirituous and intoxicating liquors shall be sold or given away for medicinal purposes, except on written prescription of a regular physician, and the medicine in the said District of Columbia, who shall certify that it is for the person and purpose named in the prescription, and for none other, and the said prescription shall be filed by a regularly licensed druggist engaged in carrying on the drug business in said District, and by no other person, and said druggist shall preserve said prescriptions, and demand for and manufacture of products, Philadelphia notes little improvement, though jewelry is active at narrow margins of profit, and less complaint than elsewhere is heard in the clothing trade, but wool is extremely dull, as may be inferred from the fact that the business is shoddy is very large, its use in place of high-priced wool increasing. The new season's goods are coming in, and the Southern demand, attributed to fall in distribution after the large sales made when prices were rising, Boston shows improved demand for leather for the leather goods, and retail dry goods active for seasonable products, but wool sales are small and wholesale trade generally quiet.

Production increased in November, reaching 183,440 tons. December 1, a gain of nearly 4,000 for the month, and over 14,000 compared with last year. Several new and large furnaces have gone into blast, but later discharges show that within two weeks a number have stopped production, and one Southern establishment has failed, and others are lower.
